

Science Accidentally Proves That Demons Might Be Real

A Myscric Original

[INTRO – Hook | 0:00–0:20]

“You believe in Wi-Fi, don’t you?

You trust your phone to send invisible signals through the air – across oceans – into someone else’s mind.

But what if something darker rides those same waves?

Not technology... but presence. Not a glitch... but something ancient – intelligent – and watching.”

This is Myscric.

And today, we follow science into a place it was never meant to go – a place that might prove demons are real.

[PART 1 – THE EYE CAN’T SEE EVERYTHING | 0:20–1:20]

You only see 0.0035% of the electromagnetic spectrum.

That means 99.9965% of reality... is invisible to you.

We can’t see Wi-Fi. Or radio. Or infrared.

But they’re there – moving through your room, your body, your mind – right now.

And that’s just physics.

Some researchers have captured shadow-like figures on surveillance cameras – shapes that dart past at impossible speeds.

In Fresno, California, a shadow crossed a warehouse in a single frame. Some say “glitch.” Others say we caught something the eye was never meant to see.

If reality hides that much... what else is moving through the dark?

[PART 2 – EINSTEIN, ENERGY, AND SOMETHING BEYOND | 1:20–2:30]

Einstein's equation — $E = mc^2$ — means that mass and energy are interchangeable.

But here's the twist:

The faster something moves, the more it becomes energy.

So at the speed of light... matter dissolves.

But what if something starts on the other side?

A being made of pure energy. Not solid. Not physical. Not limited.

It wouldn't walk into a room — it would phase into it.

Not seen... but felt.

Like cold air before a storm. Like static before a voice.

Science tells us this is possible. It just never asks what else might do it.

[PART 3 – VIBRATION, QUANTUM LEAKS, AND DOORLESS ENTRY | 2:30–3:40]

Quantum physics shows us something terrifying:

Particles can disappear... and reappear on the other side of solid matter.

It's called quantum tunneling — and it's proven.

One second, it's here. The next, it's through the wall.

If particles can do it... could something else?

And here's where it gets stranger:

Reality isn't solid — it's made of vibrations.

Matter is just energy, vibrating at a specific frequency.

If something knew how to control its vibration,
it could slip through our world like fog through a fence.

You wouldn't see it.

But your instincts would scream.

[PART 4 – HUMAN CONNECTION: HOW YOU BECOME THE GATEWAY | 3:40–4:40]

It gets personal now.

Ancient spiritual systems — and quantum theories — speak of the Law of Connection.

That everything... is linked.

Your mind is not isolated. Your thoughts ripple into something greater.

Focus is a tuning fork.

And the more you focus on something — fear it, imagine it, believe it —
the more you tune in to it.

You don't need rituals.

Or pentagrams.

Sometimes, all it takes is your attention.

You invite it... by simply noticing it.

[PART 5 – DMT, ENTITIES, AND THE UNSEEN NETWORK | 4:40–6:00]

Here's where science cracks open the door.

In government-approved studies on DMT — the most powerful known psychedelic — participants report the same thing:

Entities. Beings. Watchers.

Dr. Rick Strassman's clinical research saw subjects — strangers — describing the same shapes, colors, messages, even emotions.

Some called them divine.

Others said they were tested, judged... or warned.

These weren't hallucinations.

These were consistent, structured encounters.

Across beliefs. Across cultures. Across time.

Could these be fragments of a broken brain?

Or... are these the very entities ancient texts once called demons — but science now meets... through chemistry?

[ENDING – THE PIECES FIT | 6:00–6:40]

You were never meant to see them.

Not with your eyes.

But science — unknowingly — is tearing back the curtain.

Piece by piece. Experiment by experiment.

Showing us:

- Beings can exist without form.
- They can move without mass.
- And they may not need permission to enter.

So the question isn't "Are demons real?"

The question is:

If science keeps peeling back reality... what else is standing just behind it?
